G. W. HOLDS LIONS TO 13-0

Chips

Substitutions: Penn State—Pincura for Dangerfield, Struble for Whitmore, Delp for Stahley, Greenshields for Balmer, Martin for Reynolds, Mahoney for Parana, Ricker for Hastings, Pannaccon for McAndrews, Lesko for Curry, Ludgren for Pincura, Roepke for Struble, Wolf for Miller, Hamas for Craig, Pincura for Ludgren, George Washington—Sanders for Clapper.

So many things stand out in the little tussle with the Nittany Lions that it would be difficult to catalogue them all. One was the remarkable number of students who attended. Apparently Chips' exhortation to go to the game bore some fruit. Another was the fact that the cheering section made noise, and plenty of noise.

Still another thing was the continued yelling of Jim Carey. Every time we looked over at the game, there was Jim, yelling his fool head off. Fine boy.

Along with a list of substitutions should go a list of injured. Captain Dave Allhouse, star end, on the bench with a broken leg; "Bear" Walker, center, with a badly injured shoulder; "Babe" Clapper, who went in the game rather the worse for wear, and played just as long as it was humanly possible.

Penn State was so surprised and chagrined that it had to work so hard for its thirteen points, that States started making alibis as soon as the game was over. "The boys weren't up to form," was the cry. But the Philadelphia Public Ledger says, "State Performs Splendidly to Win Gridiron Battle."

About ten or twelve George Washington students started singing The Buff and The Blue in the leading State College restaurant about ten o'clock Saturday morning. That was just one thing. All day long they were to be found much in evidence about the town, telling the world what a football team they had.

But we've been talking football an awful lot. Must pay some attention to the people who went up. One bunch was belated by a burned-out bearing, and arrived at seven o'clock. That evening they went to a Chi Omega dance, and in the party were two of our co-eds. Since about thirty G. W. men were there, they got the rush of their lives.

Dr. Ragatz last week in giving assignments to one of his classes, wrote a Thursday assignment, to this effect: Go to the Pep Club meeting, and cheer the team.

The President of the Columbian Debating Society in a letter to The Hatchet tells all about what is wrong with G. W. debating. He enlists our support and co-operation in bringing outstanding men into the forensics field, stressing the need of Gentlemen, with a big G. Give this little boy a big hand.

An epistle from an esteemed colleague:

Dear Dick Rollo: Every time you acknowledge my existence by a note in your column, I am accused of being you. I am not you and to prove it I am going away for the week-end and will not be at the printer's, when you swear at the typewriters and people and incidentally bring forth your brain child. Your obedient servant, Letty Biltbank.

Now that it is settled, you can concentrate on the arduous task of discovering our identity. It really is a trifle not worth bothering about. Suffice it to say, we have a dual personality and have enlisted the services of Doc Moss, our brother Tom Rollo, Jack Lockwill, Soup Starr, President Marvin, and others in concealing ourselves. Doc Moss says we're schizophrenic. We won't dispute.

Our motto for this week: Don't let down on this pep; we still have a score to settle with C. U.

Incidentally, we've not beaten the Brooklanders since 1924, when the score was 14-0.

Another score we feel should be tied is this: George Washington last played Georgetown in 1923, when Bill Quigley was coach, and we were beaten, 20-0. How about a post-season game? Penn State beat Lafayette 40-6, and G. W. 13-0. Georgetown beat Lafayette only 27-2.

We know this will raise howls from the four corners of the earth; but what matters that? We dearly love to raise howls.

DICK ROLLO.

STUDENT ANNUAL VODVIL SET FOR DECEMBER 15TH

Board of Directors of Dramatic Association to Manage This Year's Production

TRYOUTS TO BE HELD EARLY IN DECEMBER

Fraternities and Sororities Are Urged to Start Work Immediately on Their Acts

George Washington University's annual Vodvil show, the outstanding entertainment event of the fall semester, will be produced in December this year. The tentative dates have been fixed as the 15th and 16th of that month.

The Vodvil this year will be given under the management of the Board of Directors of the Dramatic Association, who discussed plans for the show last Wednesday at a meeting in Professor Bolwell's office. These students are Edward Moulton, Pern Henninger, Marion Campbell, Betty Whitbank, Max Tendler, Kenneth Years, George Spangler, and Harold Blackman.

Organizations Will Present Acts All fraternities, sororities, and independent organizations are urged to start immediately upon their respective acts, as it is planned to have tryouts early in December. Although the Board of Managers has not yet announced full details of its plans in governing the selection of acts for presentation, it is virtually conceded that the bill on both nights of performance will be the same. This makes it imperative that acts should be of high merit, as it will be a case of the survival of the fittest.

The Vodvil, which increases in popularity every year, has been made practically an institution due to its success in the past few years. Original skits, satirizing many different little episodes of University life, and music and dancing, have demonstrated the excellent ability of G. W. students.

Electrician Appointed

At the regular meeting of the Dramatic Association last week, Harold "Steve" Blackman was appointed to the Board to serve as Electrician. This completes the actual executive staff of the Board, although assistants to the managers are yet to be named.

A coach for the production of the variety play will probably be announced next week, and the plays that have been studied have narrowed down to a select few, so that a selection will possibly be made soon and announced in early editions of the Hatchet.

In the meantime, all organizations are encouraged to begin in earnest upon the part they are expected to play in the Vodvil.

DANGERS OF DEGREES EXTOLLED BY MARVIN

President Marvin Addresses Members of Federal Schoolmen's Club at First Meeting

Because the holder of a Ph. D. often lacks the moral stamina to face the world, the theory that such a degree is essential to classroom service is endangering standards of higher education throughout the country. Dr. C. H. Marvin declared at the first meeting of the Federal Schoolmen's Club, held Saturday, November 6, in the Lee House.

Finishing the under-graduate school, a mediocre student, afraid of every day life, will accept a fellowship and obtain his Master's degree. Then his professor will persuade him, with little or no opposition from the student, to continue and take a Ph. D. degree, and the product is a man without the moral stamina that can be acquired only by contact with the world, Dr. Marvin said.

The present confusion in teaching of the liberal arts, Dr. Marvin said, is due to the conflict between the old and the new views. The course of liberal arts originated, he explained, "on the porches of Attica, against a dark background of slavery" among a class of dilettantes whose studies marked them off from the lower classes.

Among the four candidates proposed for membership by the board of governors and elected at this meeting of the club is Oliver J. Irish, of the George Washington Medical School.

WOMEN'S G. W. CLUB

This year promises to be the biggest in the history of the Women's G. W. Club. At the next meeting, the date of which will be announced in a later issue of "The Hatchet," plans will be discussed for rooms for the club. As this meeting is to be an important one, all members are requested to be present.

Innocent Co-ed Finds New Uses For Library Windows But Mason Won't Believe It

Co-eds do flirt, as you all know, but not all the time do they do it intentionally! Just the other day we noticed a sweet young thing fixing her hat and hair while standing on the steps of Lisner Hall. Now that much does not sound one bit unusual, BUT she was appropriating as a mirror the library window, and while seeing her reflection was smiling very, very sweetly. Behind the cold plate glass window stood "Cutie" Mason, our own librarian, quite astounded to think that any co-ed could ever be as brazen as all that! But outside the window the "young thing" was innocent... and innocence is bliss!

EDITORIAL STAFF OF CHERRY TREE

The Board of Editors of the 1928 Cherry Tree has called a general meeting of the Cherry Tree staff Thursday, November 10, at 8 o'clock in Room 17, Corcoran Hall.

Students who have already been appointed to the staff will be expected to attend and all those who are interested in the year book should be present, as there are still many vacancies which will be filled at that time. The editorial staff still needs considerable additions and there is good opportunity for those who will come out for it.

The personnel chosen so far is as follows: Managing Editor, Virginia Blackstone; Organizations, Margaret Monk, Geraldine Shook; Classes, Marjorie Rhodes, Helen Kerr, Ruth Griggs; Men's Sports, Kingsland Prender; Girls' Sports, Louise Omwake, Julia Denning, Mary Hoskins; Caroline Hobbs; Sororities, Harriet Ross, Bernadine Horn, Helen Taylor; Law School, George Martin; Dramatics, Pern Henninger, Betsy Booth; Society, Ruth Campbell, Frances Marshall; Features, Herbert E. Angel, Margaret Loeffler, Jean Jackson; Art, Winifred Beall, Helen Buchalter; Photography, Warren Briggs; Make-up, Helen Dix, Kitty Ruth; Publications, Erwin Stumm.

Plans for the annual are already well under way, and as soon as the staff is complete work on the book will begin. The Board has departed from the style of make-up used in the past and the new Cherry Tree will be planned with a definite motive in mind, which will be carried out through the entire volume.

Maj. Blount to Coach Fencing in G. W. Gym

First Practice Meeting for Fencing Will Be Held November 15 at Five O'clock

Fencing will begin on Tuesday, November 15, 1927, at 5 o'clock in the gymnasium, and will be coached by Major Blount.

The first fencing meeting held on Thursday, November 3, had an attendance of 10 girls. Practice after November 15 will be every week on Tuesday and Thursday evening from 5 until 7 o'clock.

Fencing for many years has had a large number of supporters at the University. Until this year it has been necessary for girls to go outside of the University to learn or participate in fencing. Through the efforts of Mrs. Russell, it has been brought more closely under the auspices of George Washington. In the future, fencing will be one more opportunity for participation in sport added to the variety already offered to the women of the University.

GERTRUDE EDERLE TO SPEAK ON NOVEMBER 9

Gertrude Ederle, first woman to swim the English Channel, will be the speaker at the regular freshman chapel on Wednesday, November 9th, in Corcoran Hall, room 1, at 12:10 p. m. The Women's Athletic Association will be the hostesses and all women of the University are invited.

NEW RULES FOR ORGANIZATION OF LEGAL STUDENTS

Regulations For Organization of Classes Unanimously Adopted At Meeting November 4

REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF CLASS OFFICIALS

Articles Govern Class Organization, Student Council Election Rules and Duties of Class Officers

At a meeting of the classes of the Law School held in Stockton Hall Friday afternoon, November 4, the set of articles governing the organization of classes and the rules of election to class offices was unanimously adopted.

The meeting was presided over by the Chairman of the Law School Committee on Student Affairs, Henry T. Kilburn. He delivered the report of the Committee and submitted the articles for the discussion and consideration of the student body. After a brief discussion the articles were accepted without modification.

A number of changes will be introduced through the adoption of the new rules, the most important probably being the reduction in the number of class officers to two in each class. The establishment of class membership, determined upon the number of session hours completed, is also provided in the rules. Campaigning in and about Stockton Hall on election day is prohibited in the articles.

Text of Articles The text of the articles as agreed upon is as follows:

1. Organization of the Classes. There shall be no distinction between morning and afternoon students in relation to membership in the various classes as set forth below.

2. The Law School shall be divided into four classes as follows: First Year Class—Comprising all students having less than twenty semester hours to their credit. Second Year Class—Comprising all students having twenty or more but less than forty semester hours to their credit. Third Year Class—Comprising all students having forty or more but less than sixty semester hours to their credit. Fourth Year Class—Comprising all students having sixty (Continued on page 4)

Y. W. C. A. TO HOLD COUNTY FAIR FRIDAY

Annual Fall Celebration to Take Place in Gym Amid Riot of Color and Fun

Next Friday night the Y. W. C. A. will officially open its annual County Fair in the George Washington University Gymnasium at eight o'clock.

Per custom, the various sororities will have featured booths along the north, west, and south walls from which food, banners, and novelties will be sold. A prize will be awarded the booth at the fair which the judges, faculty members, think is the best. The type of booth, the decorations, and the method by which sales are made will all be considered.

Dancing will be another feature of the fair, and it is rumored that the same colored orchestra which everyone liked so well last year will furnish the tunes and syncopations from 8 'til 12.

The east wall of the "Tin Tabernacle" will be decorated with the banners of the fraternities.

Louise DuBose, chairman, will be in the Gym at 1 o'clock today to apportion booth space to the Greek Letter girls. She is quoted as saying, "First come first served!"

The booths already selected are as follows: mits, peanuts, and chewing gum, Chi Omega; cake, Sigma Kappa; balloons, Phi Delta; candy, Delta Zeta; punch, Pi Beta Phi; ice cream, Alpha Delta Pi; and Gamma Beta Pi is to have a checking service.

Chaperons for the County Fair include President and Mrs. Marvin, Dean and Mrs. Ruediger, Dean and Mrs. Doyle, Dean Rose, and Miss Evelyn Jones.

SELECTION OF GIRLS' GLEE CLUB COMPLETED

Miss Estelle Wentworth has made her selection of a small group of the Girl's Glee Club. This group is made up of a select number of first and second sopranos, and first and second altos. The club as a whole is starting work on a medley of familiar songs while the smaller group is preparing some interesting pieces which they will give at the Glee Club concert.

CLASS ELECTIONS HELD ON NOV. 3

Theodore Chapin President of Freshman Class; Caroline Jacobson Vice President

144 VALID BALLOTS CAST

William Hardy Elected Junior President; Dorothy Schenken Made Sophomore Treasurer

Class elections of the Columbian College, School of Education, and School of Engineering, were held on Thursday, November 3, in the gym under the direction of Dr. West.

These elections were held to elect officers of the freshman classes and to fill vacancies in the other classes. The total number of ballots cast was 148; 4 of these was invalid, thus leaving 144 valid ballots. The number of evening voters were very few, probably because of the bad weather.

Theodore Y. Chapin was elected president, Caroline Jacobson vice-president, Russell Coombes secretary, Frank Linton treasurer, and Roberta Wright sergeant-at-arms of the Freshman Class in Columbian College.

There was no treasurer in the Sophomore Class, nor a president in the Junior Class of Columbian College. Dorothy Schenken was elected to the former office, and William Hardy to the latter.

In the Freshman Class of the School of Engineering, J. T. Heare was elected president, Kenneth Brodrick vice-president, William Sterrett secretary, J. Biggs treasurer, and for sergeant-at-arms there was a tie between J. Crosby, J. T. Heare, and Hawkins.

J. T. Heare, however, was elected to another office, so the tie stands between Crosby and Hawkins. William Jenison was elected sergeant-at-arms of the Sophomore Class and E. Farrar Goldberger president of the Senior Class.

There were no ballots cast for the offices of president, vice-president, and secretary in the Junior Class in the School of Education.

Atherton, G. W. Man, Is Dead; Was Athlete

Pre-Medical Student Dies After Two-Week Illness; Was Football Player and Golfer

Jack Griffith Atherton, George Washington student and athlete, died on the morning of November 4, after a two-week illness.

A young Atherton was a pre-medical student, entering the University in 1925. He was one of the star performers on the 1925 freshman football eleven, filling a tackle position during the entire season. Atherton was also a member of the G. W. golf team in 1926, playing in the most important matches and winning his letter in that sport.

Jack Atherton was born in Scranton, Pa., February 3, 1907. He later moved to this city, attending Central High School, from which he was graduated in 1925. He was a member of the Blue and White football team in 1923 and 1924. He is survived by his parents and a younger brother, Dolph W. Atherton.

DR. W. M. LEWIS GUEST OF LAFAYETTE ALUMNI

Dr. William Mather Lewis, former president of George Washington University and now president of Lafayette College, will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at a luncheon of the Lafayette College Alumni Association of this city and vicinity, tomorrow at 12:15 o'clock in the Lafayette Hotel.

The luncheon will precede the football game between Lafayette and Georgetown at the Clark C. Griffith Stadium. Approximately 50 members of the local alumni are expected to attend the luncheon.

After beating Penn, Syracuse, and Lafayette by decisive scores Penn State College struggled to defeat the undefeated George Washington eleven by a margin of two touchdowns, 13-0, on the New Beaver field, State College, Pa., last Saturday.

The Lions scored two touchdowns in the third quarter after the Colonials held them scoreless during the first half. Captain Johnny Roepke and "Heft" Hamas scored the touchdowns for the Nittany team, the former making 21 yards through the line for his score. Hamas made the second score when Lesko blocked Stehman's punt and recovered it on the George Washington 1-yard line.

The Buff and Blue was within striking distance of the State goal line early in the third period when they carried the ball from the middle of the field to State's 7-yard line. With but 1 yard to go for a first down Sapp fumbled the ball which Wolff recovered and returned to his own 48-yard stripe before he was nailed.

Sapp, Carey, Stehman Star

Sapp, Carey, and Stehman played an exceptionally fine game for the Colonials, the latter often tearing through the State line for long gains. Sapp was fine on the defense as well as on the offense, while Carey often nailed the Lion backs for a loss before they had time to get started. Lesko, Captain Roepke, and Wolf were the outstanding figures in the Penn State lineup, the former making possible the Lions' second touchdown by blocking Stehman's punt, while Wolf and Roepke made brilliant runs for substantial gains.

State made sixteen first downs, eight in each half, to four for George Washington. The Lions completed eleven of eighteen forward passes, two of which were intercepted by the Crummen. George Washington made fourteen attempts, six of which were successful. The total yardage gained by the Colonials by passes was fifty yards. Two hundred and fifty George Washington students accompanied their team to State College.

First Quarter

George Washington kicked off to State's 33-yard line. State then made three first downs in rapid succession using line plays and end runs. A 25-yard penalty put State back on its own 30-yard line. State then attempted a pass which was unsuccessful, a second attempt at a pass, however, was completed for a small gain. After three more attempts to advance the ball G. W. took it on downs. George Washington fumbled on the first play but recovered the ball. On the next play Stehman punted to his own 45-yard line.

State gained another first down when it carried the ball to G. W.'s 30-yard line on the second play. The Colonials then strengthened and held the Lions' downstems, taking the ball on their own 25-yard line. After tearing through the State line for a first down, Stehman got off a beautiful kick which sailed to the State 7-yard line. State had the ball on their own 15-yard line when the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

State had made a first down when one of their passes was intercepted and returned to the George Washington 25-yard line. The Colonials then carried the ball for two successful (Continued on page 4)

STUDES ARE NURSEMAIDS

LOS ANGELES (IP).—Students at the University of California, Southern, have numerous ways of earning their way through college, according to a report of the secretary of the alumni employment bureau, but the most novel, for men students at least, is that of two men who earn money by caring for babies while the parents are visiting away.

Three students are motormen on street cars, while several operate taxis in their spare time.

Two more students act as interpreters to German motion picture celebrities living at Hollywood.

OUR MR. GALLAGHER

In an open letter to The Hatchet, Mr. Edward C. Gallagher, president of the Columbian Debating Society, mildly rails at The Hatchet for a recent editorial regarding debating in the University. There is a good deal of meat in his letter, and some very delicate sarcasm. However, the sarcastic passages should be taken seriously, and swallowed whole, with the rest of the business.

Mr. Gallagher talks of Gentlemen. Surely The Hatchet did not insinuate, or did not mean to, that members of the Varsity debating team are not gentlemen, or are boors. We do, however, suggest a change in the tactics, or the quality of wit.

The nub of the open letter is that men are needed in varsity debating who can represent the University in debating. And indeed, the best training which these men can receive is in the Columbian Debating Society.

Far from attacking the debating squad, The Hatchet is merely trying to uplift an activity which is honored and old. This publication wishes to cooperate, and we think that we should chide Mr. Gallagher for getting sarcastic.

What the University needs is more cooperation between the various activities. We dare say that very few members of Mr. Gallagher's society know the members of The Hatchet staff, for example, and vice versa. And our previous dictum still stands, namely, that whatever defects there may be should be remedied by more men—"gentlemen"—and more able men, coming out for varsity debating.

THE COUNTY FAIR

Friday night the Gym will witness the Annual County Fair, one of the most popular affairs in the list of the school's activities. Many sororities and clubs are represented, and there is much scheming among them to obtain the most tastefully decorated booth. Hot dogs and balloons usually command the greatest crowds, although there are many sentimental people who take the opportunity of learning their fate. And to others the Fair means just one more chance to dance.

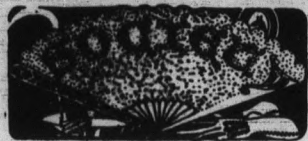

The Fair, however, has a greater significance than the entertainment which it provides. It is the one large gathering in which men and women, fraternity and non-fraternity mix indiscriminately. Every sport and club has its individual following, but the County Fair is a common meeting ground for all. It seems to us that the school needs more such get-togethers; that while there is a very friendly atmosphere at George Washington, the people are in cliques. In a school of this size it is impossible to avoid the "crowds," but an occasional mixing of the groups would be beneficial both to the "crowd" and to the individual.

LOST AND FOUND

We have been told that the Registrar's Office is the place to inquire for lost and found articles. The number of these mislaid or forgotten things is appalling in a school of this size. Books, notes, pocket books, scarfs, scarfs, umbrellas, coats and hats are a few of the things which testify to the fact that the students at George Washington have no locker space. We appreciate the fact that there is no room for lockers in the University.

But one thing can be remedied, and that is the lost and found department. At the present time one must make a tour of the janitors of various buildings, the Women's Building, Miss Watkins' Office, the Library, and any other place of which one is ingenious enough to think before one has the least hope of obtaining what is lost.

Can we not all make an effort to turn in things at the Registrar's Office? We are sure that the next time you lose a book you will agree with us that this is a good idea.

Phi Sigma Sigma danced Halloween merrily away at the Pemberton Studio, Monday, October 31.

A theater party was held for the rushees of Phi Sigma Sigma Sunday, October 25, at Keith's.

A novel affair in the form of a Bohemian supper party was given by Phi Sigma Sigma for their rushees, Wednesday, October 26.

A formal luncheon by Phi Sigma Sigma for her rushees preceded the non-communication period.

Phi Sigma Sigma celebrated Promise Day by a Promise Tea at the home of Edith Dresden.

Several local members of Sigma Phi Epsilon were guests of honor at the opening of their new house at Penn State after the G. W. game.

Sigma Kappa entertained their promisees at a luncheon on Tuesday, November first. The most popular feature of the occasion was an appetizing cake inscribed in honor of the freshmen.

The cider mills, posters, bars and black cats which have held positions of honor at the various fraternity houses have been discarded. Costumes have been laid away with an anxious prayer that they will not be outgrown by next year. The spirit of gaiety no longer prevails. In other words, and the announcement may not come as a complete surprise to some of you, Halloween is with us no more! Even the somewhat doubtful excitement of rushing has been taken from us. Nothing but school until Thanksgiving. Oh, well! Maybe we'll buy some books and start studying, if nothing promising turns up.

The masquerade given by the Kappa Sig's at their chapter house on October 29 was an entire success. The decorations were exceptionally attractive and different, and pumpkin pie was served instead of the conventional refreshments. Quite a few guests from other fraternities were present.

Chi Omega entertained its new "promisees" at dinner in the sorority rooms on Tuesday, November 1.

Woodrow Wilson Senate of Delta Theta Phi Legal Fraternity held its first smoker of the season at the Carlton Club on Friday evening, October 28th. Dr. Marvin, President of the University; Professor Arnold and Professor Moll, of the law school, and about 100 members and guests attended. The smoker was conducted in harmony with the aims and traditions of the fraternity and was highly successful.

George Washington's school spirit has certainly improved, if the number of people who went up to Penn State for the game is any indication. Some of the many who went to cheer the team on were: George Spangler, George Souther, Sherman Johnson, Jerry Sticker, Jo College Olson, George Muth, Art Mitchell, Bradford Swope, Neil Stull, Don Iglehart, and 290 others.

The STYX announces the recent pledging of William Albrecht and Edward Triley.

Phi Sigma Sigma celebrated Promise Day by a Promise Tea at the home of Edith Dresden.

Twenty members of Eta Alpha chapter of Theta Upsilon Omega together with one Theta Delta Chi, one Kappa Sig, two S. A. E's and one K. A. were the guests of the Penn State chapter of T. U. O. last week-end for the football game.

Perhaps as a tardily observed Halloween, perhaps as an early Thanksgiving, the Art Promoters last Saturday evening had a festive gathering in their G Street studio from 9 until 12. Guests were costumed but unmasked. Aladdin and his slave carried off the prize for the best garb, possibly because of the real magic lamp Aladdin, who was Jesse Rohrbach, carried. A chicken dinner towards the close of the evening made everyone present glad that he had come.

Phi Sigma Kappa wishes to announce the pledging of Norman Hepburn and Bernard W. Conder.

Cliff Toal was initiated into Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity at their fall initiation.

A large delegation of G. W. Theta Deltas made the trip to the Penn State game. Some of these were: Verne MacDonald, Halleck Bartlett, Bob Barnes, Fred McGhan, Francis Finley, Francis Tompkins, Charles Smoot, Lee Craighill, Jean Higgins, Ossie Schreiner, J. T. Heare, and Bill Sterrett.

Alpha Delta Pi entertained its new pledges at a luncheon in the chapter rooms last Tuesday.

CO-EDS SMALLER; MEN LARGER

BERKELEY, Calif. (IP).—College women are becoming smaller and college men larger, according to unofficial investigation made by the department of physical education at the University of California. According to the department the average size of swimming suits given out to co-eds has decreased from the "Perfect 36" to 34. Men are becoming larger, however, as indicated by actual measurements during the past few years.

Pipe paths lead to P.A.

YOU can take the long, circuitous route and come to P.A. by degrees, as you eventually will, or you can cut corners and start right with The National Joy Smoke. Open a tidy red tin of Prince Albert, drink in that rich, rare aroma, and you will decide on the quick route.

Your first taste of P.A. in a pipe will clinch the decision. What a smoke, honestly! Cool as a conference in the Dean's office. Sweet as getting back on unlimited cuts. Mild as tea, but with that tobacco-body that satisfies your most deep-rooted smoke-hankering. No matter how fast you feed it, P.A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. Just cool contentment and solid satisfaction with this long-burning favorite of experienced jimmy-pipers. Ream out the old pipe and give it a brand-new deal with good old P.A.—today.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tins, humidor, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

S. A. E. and K. A. Lead Interfrat Court Play

SIGMA ALPHA EPS AND K. A.'S LEAD THEIR LEAGUES

Former Heads League No. 1; Kappa Alpha First in No. 2

DELTA TAU DELTA UPSETS SIGMA CHI UNEXPECTEDLY

Good-Sized Crowds Drawn to Spirited Games in University Gymnasium

The second week's play in the two interfrat basketball leagues ended last Saturday night with Sigma Alpha Epsilon leading league one, and Kappa Alpha at the head of league two. All the games have been spirited affairs, drawing good sized crowds and affording the spectator plenty of action and excitement for the ten cent admission fee.

The two leaders are out in front by virtue of well drilled teams playing heady basketball. Sigma Chi's defeat by Delta Tau Delta was as unexpected as it was close, the score being 18 to 17. Kappa Sigma is favored in league one, but it looks as though they will have a job on their hands to displace S. A. E. from the lead.

Standing of the leagues:

League One		Won.	Lost.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	2	0
Kappa Sigma	1	0
Sigma Phi Epsilon	1	1
Acacia	0	1
Theta Delta Chi	0	2

League Two		Won.	Lost.

Sigma Nu	1	1
Sigma Chi	1	1
Delta Tau Delta	1	1
T. U. O.	1	1
Phi Sigma Kappa	0	2

Sigma Chi Beats Sigma Nu

On Saturday night Sigma Chi beat Sigma Nu, 24 to 18, in a spirited encounter before a small but noisy gathering of rooters. Sigma Chi led throughout, their opponents threatening only in the fourth quarter, when they were successfully repelled. The score at the end of the half was 15 to 9 in Sigma Chi's favor, and they came right back in the second half to clinch the game, Smith and Anderson leading the scoring.

Few Fouls in Game

The game was unusually free from fouls. The team captains agreed that no one should be removed from the game for fouls; however, no one committed enough to warrant his removal even if the agreement had not been reached.

Smith was the best all around performer for Sigma Chi, leading his team in points scored with 10. For Sigma Nu, Hill's work was outstanding. He registered 9 points, several in the form of very difficult field goals.

The Sigma Chi team lined up with Anderson and Begkman, forwards; Snow, center; and Smith and Riley, guards. The Sigma Nu team was made up of Moore and Hill, forwards; Lundberg, center; Snider and Heigel, guards; with Merrick, Snider, Morre and Thomas as substitutes.

K. A. Takes First Place

In a fast but loosely played game, Delta Tau Delta fell before a smooth running Kappa Alpha five by a score of 36 to 16, on Thursday night at the gym, the winner thereby assuming first place.

The second half was much faster than the first. Delta Tau Delta, trailing by a score of 16 to 8 at the end of the first half, came back strong in the last half, and for a time threatened to tie the score with their determined onslaught. It was only by virtue of a persistent, aggressive defense that Kappa Alpha maintained its lead.

Terry Scores for K. A.

The winning team gave a good example of team play. But they missed a number of field goals they should have made. Terry was the leading K. A. point scorer with a total of 13. Delta Tau Delta put up a good, game fight all the way through. When the final whistle blew they were still giving their best. MacOscar, forward, proved himself a thorn in the side of K. A. Playing with unflagging energy, he made himself very prominent, both on the offense and defense, leading his team in point scoring with eight points.

The K. A. team was composed of Phillips and Alexandria, forwards; Haddock, center; Highsmith and Terry, guards; with Bruce Marshall, Neville, Davis, Myers and Crain as substitutes. The D. T. D. team was made up of Vesey and Mac Oscar, forwards; Clarke, center; Baker and Karnes,

S. A. E. Smothers S. P. E.

Smothering Sigma Phi Epsilon by a score of 40 to 12. Sigma Alpha Epsilon assumed the leadership of the inter-frat league. Thursday night in the gym. A very large crowd attended.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon started off slowly, scoring only six points in their first quarter, piled up a long lead in the next two quarters, then relaxed somewhat, while S. P. E. scored most of her points.

Knapp is Outstanding

The victors presented a rather light, but fast and aggressive team, while their opponents were heavier and not so alert on the defense. Twenty-three of the winners points were made by Knapp, whose work was outstanding; Salinger was S. P. E.'s best man.

The S. A. E. team was composed of Knapp and Proctor, forwards; Lindsey, center; Whyte and Durand, guards; with Licklider, Neff, Mitchell and Rigby, subs. Salinger and Coffin, forwards; Chambers, center; Eager and Ketcham, guards; with substitutes Peck, Boyd and Healy, made up the S. P. E. team.

20 to 10 Victory for Kappa Sig

Tuesday night's first game in inter-frat league No. 1 resulted in a 20 to 10 victory for Kappa Sigma over Theta Delta Chi. Though rather slow and loosely played at times, the score was close enough throughout the contest to keep the large gathering cheering continually.

Both teams displayed a good defense, but Kappa Sigma seemed better drilled and more alert than their rivals, who nevertheless made K. S. hustle to win. Also, both teams were well rounded aggregations, no single player appearing greatly superior to his teammates, although Popham and Robertson work for the winners would have been hard to improve upon, while Iverson and Brumbaugh were two good reasons why the Kappa Sigma score was not larger. Kappa Sigma appeared to be in better condition than Theta Delta Chi.

The winner's team was made up of Canny and Robertson, forwards; Popham, center; Scott and Alewine, guards; with Russell, Renmiger and Duerferman as substitutes. Craig-hill and Iverson, forwards; Hare, center; Barnes and Brumbaugh, guards; and Finley, substitute forward, represented Theta Delta Chi.

Sigma Chi Loses Close Game

After a really fierce struggle that kept the gym echoing with spectators' cheers, shouts, and boos, Delta Tau Delta defeated Sigma Chi, 18 to 17, Tuesday night. Delta Tau Delta finished the first half several points behind Sigma Chi, but going into the second half, they overwhelmed Sigma Chi with a vigorous offensive drive that finally brought them out the winners by one point. Throughout the last period it was anybody's game.

A large crowd of spectators attending kept up a continual medley of cheers, and even threatened to bring down the circus seats upon which they stood.

Sigma Chi presented a spirited team that seems rather weak in shooting baskets. Slicker and Beckman showed up well for them. Delta Tau Delta has a good center in Clarke, who got the ball on the toss up nearly every time, besides doing some long distance passing, and fast dribbling that was instrumental in his team's success.

T. U. O. Wins Over Phi Sigma Kappa

In a game marked by spectacular shooting, Theta Upsilon Omega smothered Phi Sigma Kappa, 53 to 35, in inter-frat league No. 2. With a scanty lead of two points at the half, T. U. O. overwhelmed their opponents in the second half with a rapid succession of goals, finishing with an eighteen point lead.

McGrew, lanky T. U. O. center, was the outstanding star of the contest, making a number of very difficult shots, and accounting for 23 of his team's total points. Gary played a like part for the losers, scoring 15 points. Smoot's work for the same team also stood out.

T. U. O. displayed a smooth working team having a good passing game at its command, and possessing a trio of stellar point scorers in McGrew, Young, and Herzog.

The colors of Theta Upsilon Omega were borne by Herzog and Young, forwards; McGrew, center; Wine-lund and Pomeroy, guards; and Dymond and Goelzer, subs. Smoot and Gary, forwards; McClellan, center; Falk and Gray, guards; and Thacker, substitute represented Phi Sigma Kappa.

COLONIALS PREP FOR SCRAP WITH ST. VINCENT MEN

Pennsylvania Visitors to be Met Saturday in Central Stadium

SAINTS COACHED BY ONE OF "FOUR HORSEMEN"

Little Difficulty Expected in Downing Keystoneers Despite 180-Pound Line and Big Backfield

Next Saturday the Crummen will oppose the Saint Vincent College eleven from Reatty, Pa., at Central High School Stadium.

While the Saint Vincent team has not done anything spectacular they have given their opponents a hard struggle and in most cases have carried the fight to the opposing team.

Among their victories is numbered a notable 13-0 score over Geneva College. Represented by a team composed of second and third string men the Saints lost to Indiana Normal 12-6, and to the powerful Slippery Rock aggregation who crushed them 60-0.

Clem Crowe, one of the four horsemen of Notre Dame and captain in 1925, is head coach at Saint Vincent. Since holding the position since last year Crowe has developed a fast team which is characterized by an undying fighting spirit. The Saints have been drilled in the Notre Dame style of play which Crowe learned during his four years under Knute Rockne while at the South Bend institution.

Weight High

The average weight of the Saint Vincent line is 180, while the backs scale an average of 165.

After having scored five victories without defeat and having given Penn State a bad scare last Saturday the Colonials should have no trouble in making it six out of seven with a victory over Saint Vincent in next Saturday's game.

The line-up of the respective teams follows:

St. Vincent		G. W. U.
R. Burke	L. E.	Perry
Shullik	L. T.	Porter
Paytash	L. G.	Hartzog

VARSITY RIFLE TEAM ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

George Washington Will Shoot Telegraphic Match With M. I. T. Around December 10

Vacancies in the schedule of the Colonial Men's Varsity Rifle team are rapidly being filled. An acceptance of the challenge sent to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has been received by George B. Campbell, manager of the team, for a telegraphic match to be shot during the week ending December 10.

Jack Plugge, a member of the team last year, and also a member of the champion five man small-bore rifle team, is now at Massachusetts Tech, and will compete against the Colonials.

Coach Walter Stokes expects to look over the new men on the squad Friday night. The outlook is very promising for a successful season this year.

Practice is being held on Monday and Friday mornings, and Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights from 7 to 9 p. m.

G. W. Students in Flivvers of All Kinds Attend State Game

Two Hundred and Fifty Sit in Cold Stands at State College; One Student Wields Auto Horn to Discomfiture of Nittany Cheering Stands

"We came, we saw, our team was defeated, but neither we nor they are conquered," is the attitude of the 250 loyal George Washington rooters who accompanied the Colonial team to State College last Saturday.

Although not quite enough names were secured to justify the proposed bus trip to the Penn State game, a veritable exodus of campus cars of all makes and descriptions, including campus flivvers of uncertain vintage began the descent on the Nittany stronghold at all hours from 5 o'clock Friday afternoon throughout the night, and during Saturday forenoon until game time. One party was delayed by a burned out bearing, and failed to arrive until three hours after the game was over, but was just in time for the Chi Omega dance.

Several cars made the 218-mile trip in five and a half hours running time, averaging better than forty miles an hour, but a group of S. A. E.'s claim the championship with an actual traveling time of five hours and fifteen minutes. On the return trip little attempt at speed was made by the home-coming rooters.

At the game itself, fully 250 Colonial partisans gathered in a cluster in the east stands just above the George Washington bench at the fifty-yard line, and organized a cheering section which compared favorably with the huge varsity and freshman Lion contingents on either side of the stadium. "Hail to the Buff and Blue," together with frequent cheers led by Jerry Sickler and his crew sounded impressive as they rolled out over the field.

Buy Auto Horn

One enterprising rooter purchased an automobile horn and a battery, and safely surrounded by a ring of G. W. ites, made life miserable for nearby Penn students. Another had a rattle, but the majority were content to yell at the top of their voices throughout the fray.

During the half, the green-capped frosh made vain attempts to sing the victory song, despite the fact that the score at that time was 0-0, but their efforts were drowned out by the jeers and boos of the upperclassmen aided by the George Washington section.

Over in the press box, be-mittened telegraph operators flashed the play by play description over the wires, while a half-frozen radio announcer depicted the struggle on the field to listeners comfortable at home. The bands on both sides of the field alternately shivered and played, while the teams see-sawed back and forth.

Out on the gridiron, the Colonial warriors gamely fought against the two teams which opposed them, holding the famous first team for eleven minutes without score.

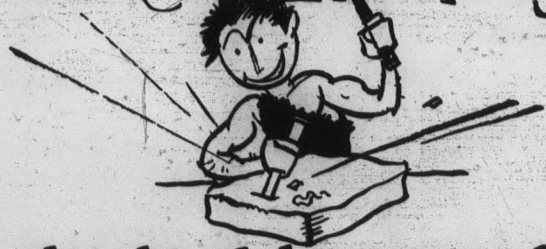

Statistics prove that the Buff and Blue gridmen held their opponents for 21 consecutive quarters, or 5 hours and 36 minutes of actual playing time before the second touchdown of the season was scored against them. At the present time, George Washington is one of the nine universities in the United States which has had less than twenty points scored against it this season.

COLONIAL TEAM SCARES PENN STATE

sive first downs when one of their passes was speared out of the air by an alert State back who was downed on his 15-yard line.

Failing to make gains through the line State kicked to the G. W. 35-yard line on the third down. Stehman crashed through the line for a 7-yard gain and then kicked to State's 30-yard line. State then punted to the Colonial 30-yard line. Not disposed to run the ball, George Washington again kicked to the Lions' 40-yard marker. State then got a first down through the line. On the following play State was given another first down when George Washington was penalized for being off-side.

The Lions fumbled on the Buff and Blue 45-yard line but recovered the ball. On the next play they made 15 yards by means of a pass which took the ball to the 30-yard stripe. State then completed a pass for a 4-yard gain. The half ended with the ball in State's possession on G. W.'s 20-yard line.

Third Quarter

State kicked off to George Washington's 20-yard line, the ball was returned 10 yards. A George Washington pass netted them 20 yards. Failing to advance the ball Stehman kicked to the opponents' 25-yard stripe. On the second play George Washington intercepted a State pass and returned it to States 20-yard line. A pass then carried G. W. to the State 14-yard line. On the next play State took a G. W. fumble and carried it to their 45-yard line.

State then made three successive first downs through the Colonial line. State is penalized 15 yards for holding. Hamas heaved a long pass to G. W.'s 10-yard marker. George Washington tightened and held State on the G. W. 4-yard line. Stehman then got off a long punt to State's 25-yard line. The Lions then carried the ball down the field on passes and end runs. With the ball on the G. W. 21-yard line, Roepke tore through the line for a touchdown.

State kicked off to the Colonial's 25-yard line. Stehman's punt was blocked by Wolf who retrieved it on G. W.'s 1-yard line. On the second play Hamas took the ball over as the whistle blew ending the third period.

Fourth Quarter

State carried George Washington's kick-off from their 20-yard line to their 45-yard line. A pass took the ball to G. W.'s 35-yard line. Another first down found State on the Buff and Blue 15-yard line. State was penalized half the way to the goal line when they were found holding. State was given the ball and a penalty which placed the ball on G. W.'s 30-yard line. State then advanced the ball 11 yards for a first down after which they were penalized 15 yards. The Colonials took possession of the ball on their 20-yard line when State failed to make the required yardage on an attempted pass on the fourth down.

Three successive passes carried George Washington to the 50-yard line, but their march was ended when State held them for downs on State's 45-yard line. The Lions punted to G. W.'s 15-yard line. The Colonials then again started on an advance down the field but were held on downs. State at once kicked to G. W.'s 15-yard line. After making only two yards on two attempts the Colonials made 5 yards on a pass and then punted to State's 45-yard marker. State returned the punt to G. W.'s 25-yard line when the game ended.

THE MOTION PICTURE

Here we are, folks, back again doing a column for the "Hatchet." Such an opportunity to write is much appreciated by anyone, but when that opportunity concerns the movies, it is doubly appreciated by me. I am a press agent for the films, lifting a voice in the wilderness of disapproval by the drama scholars to extol a new medium of expression.

Last year this department ranted and raged in an attempt to prove that the movies are separate and distinct from any other art form, must be judged by none of the canons of criticism applied to the drama, etc., and must be considered worthy of the interest of scholars. The latter remark was amended by the statement that most movies are indeed dreadful, but some are good, and they should be reviewed from the angle of the good ones, just as books are so reviewed. There are, you know, a lot of pretty bad books.

But this year this department is going to be mild and even-tempered, and not yell about the theory of the cinema, but worry about individual examples. You need not fear, however, that the customary criticism will be employed. There will be nothing like this: "Passionate Passions" stars Gloria Pickford, and is very good entertainment. The Pathe News and a Harry Chaplin comedy complete the best bill in months. No—if anybody cares, there will be a few notes about the worth-while pictures coming to Washington. This service, it is hoped, you will find agreeable and enlightening.

This week in Washington there are many movies that should be seen, notably "Chang," a truly thrilling and unique drama and scenic about the people, jungles and animals of Siam. And if you don't mind, it will be asserted that this picture demonstrates that the movie has licked literature in another department again—ten times more trenchant and beautifully descriptive than any number of words. It is at the Palace.

"Ben-Hur" at the Columbia needs no introduction, while "Manon Lescaut" at the Little Theater will be found an erotic and splendidly acted movie version of the celebrated story. "Les Miserables," at the Rialto, is not a movie in its real sense, but a pictorial rendition of the book, meticulous about all of Hugo's details.

Next week there is a treat in store for lovers of high comedy. An adaptation of Moliere's "Tartuffe," produced by UFA, directed by Murnau, maker of "The Last Laugh," with Emil Jannings in the title role, will be seen at the—you'll never guess—Little Theater. Here you will discover the satire and quaint morality and antique atmosphere of the play well transcribed to the other medium. "Tartuffe" is a dish for the Gods. Besides technical details in which few are interested, there is a charming performance by Jannings, and good work by Lil Dagover and Werner Kraus. Don't miss it.

In the above paragraph there was almost a slip into that kind of talk it was announced would not be present in these lines. When morale slides, it is time to stop. So farewell until next week, bearing in mind that "Camille" and "Loves of Carmen" are at the Metropolitan and Fox respectively.

GOLF VS. FOOTBALL

CLEVELAND, Ohio (IP).—Western Reserve University this year lost to Oberlin College, 30-0 in football. But Reserve got even Saturday in a way. President Robert E. Vinson, of Reserve defeated President Ernest Hatch Wilkins in a game of golf Saturday morning. The Oberlin Prexy lost by four holes. Instead of talking golf, the two discussed the latest in education. President Wilkins said that the score could have been improved upon, but that the conversation was very satisfactory.

HARVARD INITIATIONS TOTTER

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (IP).—The doing away with all initiation of freshmen at Harvard is being considered following the attack by the Harvard Crimson on the recent antics of the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1776 club when it initiated freshmen in Harvard Square.

It is being argued that such initiations are too childish and out of keeping with the dignity of the institution.

HOCKEY PLAYERS WIN FIRST GAME

George Washington Girls Beat American University Team With Score of 3-0

DEFENSIVE PLAY STRONG

Alice Graham Was Elected Captain of Varsity Team Just Before the Game

The George Washington University and American University hockey teams met on the Ellipse, Friday, November 4, 1927. The George Washington team defeated its opponents in a fast game with a score of 3-0.

The G. W. team showed decidedly better playing than the rival team during the entire game. The team work exhibited by George Washington was especially good. Pass-work was used entirely by the home team and showed up well in contrast to the rather erratic individual work on the part of the girls from American University.

The work of the defense was excellent as demonstrated by the fact that the opponents failed to shoot a single ball past the back-fielders, over the goal line. The offensive play was the greatest weakness of both teams. A number of times the ball would approach the scoring line, only to be shot back to mid-field. The girls lacked the final offensive closing, which is necessary to push the ball through for a count.

The three goals of the game were made by Alice Graham, the George Washington center forward. Besides the general cooperation of the whole there were several girls whose playing showed up exceptionally well during the contest. These were Louise Du Bose, right halfback; Mary K. Lutz, right full back; Myrtle Crouch, left inside; Jenny Turnbull, center half-back; and Zimmerman, left fullback.

At a meeting just previous to the game with American University, the George Washington girls elected Alice Graham as captain of the 1927 Varsity Hockey Squad.

LAFAYETTE PROF AND STUDENT MAKE WAGER

Expenses to New York and Corona Cigar are Wagered

EASTON, Pa. (IP).—Lafayette College is to conduct a semi-official investigation of the conditions of unemployment in the United States. The investigation will be made along practical lines and will be centered in the City of New York. When a final decision is reached by the experts, an important wager between Professor Miller D. Steever of the government department of the college and Roland S. Finley '28, will also reach a settlement, to the satisfaction of the class in socialism.

"The unemployment conditions in the United States at the present time are a serious indictment of our social organization," said Professor Steever to his class last week, "and it is hard for willing men to get jobs."

"I bet I can get a job in any city around here," challenged the confident Finley from New Haven, "and in one day, too."

"I'll take you up on that," responded Mr. Steever. "I give you twenty-four hours in New York City to get a manual job without using special influence. If you win I pay your expenses and give you a Corona cigar, if you lose charge your costs up to experience and give me a Corona cigar. When will you go?"

"Friday the twenty-eighth," promised Finley.

PRINCETON BEAT HARVARD

NEW YORK (IP).—Something familiar about that, you think, but then, didn't I hear that those two schools had broken off athletic relations?

Correct both ways! The game was played on Sunday between alumni of Harvard and Princeton in an effort to patch up the difficulties between the traditional enemies. Princeton won, 7 to 0.

The crowd which watched the contest numbered only about 5,000, but there was a lot of cheering, and good opportunity for the same when the old stars did some of their old stuff and made a thrilling football game out of it. Beatti scored the touchdown which gave the victory to Princeton.

CO-ED WINS PIPE IN CONTEST

SEATTLE, Wash. (IP).—When the business manager of "Columns" a University of Washington undergraduate publication, offered a $5.00 Ben Wade K. P. pipe to the man who turned in the most subscriptions he failed to figure on the co-eds.

Melanie Peterson took him up, turned in the most subscriptions and claims that the pipe is hers regardless. She is keeping it on display.

Tennis Matches Start On Two Final Rounds

Davis Plays Ewin and Omwake Plays Hurd in Semi-Final Tournament Matches

The women's fall tennis tournament has progressed to the semi-final stage at last, in spite of many delays owing to unfavorable weather.

To qualify for the semi-finals, Davis won from Heare 6-0, 6-2, and Omwake won from Miles. Davis is lined up against Ewin, and Omwake plays Hurd, who placed by default. These semi-finals will be played as exhibition matches on the G. W. court.

After these matches are played, the winners will play the final match for the woman's championship of the school. After the end of the tournament, the list of the 10 high women who are to compose the G. W. tennis team for this year will be announced.

WOMEN'S RIFLE PLANS INCLUDE NIGHT CLASS

Varsity Squad Will Be Separated Into Two Competitive Teams: Buff and Blue

A complete schedule of women's rifle practice at George Washington University has been organized, which includes varsity, night, class and beginners classes.

The varsity team has adopted a new system of practice which ought to assist them in maintaining the record-breaking standards which have marked Women's Rifle for the past two or three seasons. The varsity squad will be divided into factions called the "Buff" and the "Blue." The "Blue" team will be composed of the girls who are considered the best shots on the squad and the "Buff" will be made up of girls whose scores have not been quite so high. The two teams will shoot shoulder to shoulder and after each match the scores will be compared. If a member of the Buff team out-shoots a member of the Blue, she will be promoted to the Blue team and will stay there as long as she continues to out-shoot the members of the Buff team. In the same manner, when a member of the Blue team fails to out-shoot the Buff team she loses her place and continues to shoot with the Buff team until she can regain her place on the Blue. This keen spirit of competition should keep the varsity girls "on their toes" and add a great deal to the value of their regular practices.

For the first time in the history of Women's Rifle at George Washington, practice classes will be held at night. Twelve girls have signed up and will be instructed in shooting on Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Girls in the beginners classes of rifle or those participating in class matches must see either Betty Clark, manager, or Helen Taylor, captain, before using the rifles of the varsity team.

FROSH GRIDDERS DOWN ST. JOHN'S

keep him out for the rest of the season, while Smith is suffering from a knee injury, making his future playing doubtful. The backfield which started the year is practically depleted, and it has been up to Coach Avis to develop new first string ball carriers. This has not been an easy task with only nineteen men on the squad, and a lack of real backfield material among the reserves.

Snoot, a half, is showing fine possibilities and should look mighty good in the future games.

NIGHT RIFLE PRACTICE

Night rifle practice for girls will be held on Tuesdays from 7 to 9. This arrangement has been made for the convenience of those girls unable to attend at any other time.

The varsity held their first practice last Saturday under the direction of Walter Stokes, coach.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS "BUNK"

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (IP).—That there are "too many intelligence testers loose in the country," and that all this classification of pupils is "pure bunk," is the opinion expressed by Dallas Lore Sharp, graduate of Brown and Professor of English at Boston University before a teacher's association meeting here recently.

Sharp claimed that he would have had just as good an education had he played hooky for all but five days of his 19 years in school and college.

G. W. ENGINEERS HEAR SAUNDERS

Student Chapter of American Society of Civil Engineers Holds Meeting

INTERSTATE COMMERCE ENGINEER SOCIETY GUEST

Henry Aaron Talks on Road Tests on Lee Highway; Saunders' Subject Is Railroad Valuation

At its first meeting of the year, held Friday, November 4, the G. W. U. Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers had as speaker Mr. H. J. Saunders. Mr. Saunders, who is a valuation engineer for the Interstate Commerce Commission, chose for his topic "Railroad Valuation," and gave many details concerning it.

He stated that the idea of railroad valuation was first started by Senator LaFollette in 1903. An act was passed by Congress in 1913 authorizing Federal railroad valuation. In this way the Interstate Commerce Commission was enabled to fix rates and maintain justice among the railroads with a clearer knowledge of what it was about.

The work was actually started in 1914 and has now been going on almost fourteen years.

All railroad property is inventoried and the value estimated. This includes track, all rolling stock, stations, shops of all kinds, and even the value of the landscaping about the stations. There was therefore a multitude of details to be properly inventoried.

At one time fourteen hundred engineers were engaged on the job. These included chiefly civil engineers, but many mechanical and electrical engineers were needed to inventory power plants, machine shops, and the like. There are now about three hundred engineers so occupied.

The main live track, inventoried since 1914 by the Interstate Commerce Commission covers two hundred and fifty thousand miles. The total track mileage, including the main line, is four hundred and fifty thousand miles.

Slides and Movies Shown
For this task of valuation the United States was divided into five districts, each under the supervision of a division engineer. Each division had fourteen field parties at work which made an average inventory of three miles of railroad per day. The maximum for a field party was about fourteen miles.

Inventories consisted of running old lines, cross-sectioning cuts and fills, measuring members of bridges, and numerous details requiring the skill of experts.

Many slides and pictures illustrating difficult problems in estimating value were shown. Glimpses of Rocky Mountain construction, tunnels, cross-overs, and switch backs gave an insight of the work not often accorded the layman.

A student talk by Henry Aaron on "Road Tests on the Lee Highway" brought out many new methods of testing concrete construction of the type used on highways.

The moving picture, "Nature's Frozen Credits," depicted the complete construction of the Boulder Hydro Electric Power plant in the Sierra Nevada Mountains of California.

An equally profitable program is in store for the next meeting, which is to be held the first week in December, according to the plans of the chapter's officers.

Tryouts For Women's Debate on November 9

George Washington University Will Meet West Virginia Team Early In December

Ruth Kernan, manager of Women's Debate, announces that try-outs for the debate with West Virginia will be held Wednesday evening, November 9, at 8 o'clock.

Those trying for positions are to make five-minute speeches on either side of the question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Now Abandon the Monroe Doctrine."

George Washington defeated West Virginia two years ago in the debate on the proposed Child Labor Amendment. The debate is to be held early in December, but no announcement has been made of the side which G. W. will support.

MISS TEMPLE TO TALK ON OLD WALL PAPER

Lecture November 10 to Deal With Colonial and Other Types of Architecture

Miss Grace Lincoln Temple will give a lecture on "Old Wall Papers and Their Stories" in Corcoran Hall 1, Thursday, November 10th at 4:30 p. m. Miss Temple's lecture deals not only with old wall papers, but includes also facts about colonial and other types of architecture and should be of interest to architectural students. The lecture will be illustrated with slides.

This is one of the series of student lectures and Miss Temple is appearing under the auspices of the Board of Lady Managers of the George Washington University Hospital.

Activity Cards Admit
Student activity tickets will admit students, who may also obtain one extra complimentary admission card upon presentation of their ticket at the time of the lecture. A general admission fee of 50 cents will be charged persons not connected with the University. Proceeds from the lecture will be used toward the George Washington University Hospital Fund.

Persons desiring tickets can obtain same from Mrs. Lloyd H. Sutton, 1320 Gallatin Street N. W.

NINE STUDENTS ATTEND MATH CLUB MEETING

McLeroy Deplores Lack of Greek Touch in Modern Mathematics

Nine embryo mathematicians attended the last meeting of the Mathematics Club on Wednesday evening in Corcoran Hall 21, during which B. Z. McLeroy spoke on Pythagorean numbers. That out of the five thousand odd students of George Washington University as many as nine, a favorite figure of the sixth century B. C. Greek philosopher Pythagoras, attended the interesting meeting of the club, was taken tacitly by the members as an encouraging sign that the students are getting interested in mathematics.

Mr. McLeroy talked about the triangle, the square and the oblong numbers of Pythagoras. He said that modern solutions of many geometrical problems lack the "Greek touch."

The Mathematics Club will meet next on Wednesday evening, November 16. It has not been decided yet who will be called upon to give a talk.

UNUSUAL CONTEST ON AT KANSAS UNIVERSITY

K. U. Co-eds Choose "Answer to the Maiden's Prayer"

The University of Kansas has an original idea in popularity contests. According to the "Hothouse" number of the Sour Owl, humorous publication, a contest is being held among the co-eds this week to choose the Kansas University man who is the "Answer to the Maiden's Prayer."

The prize is the golden apple, symbolic of the one which Paris of Troy gave to Aphrodite in that famous beauty contest which won him Helen and started the Trojan War. The winner will also rule as King of Hearts at the annual K. U. Carnival which is held in the spring. The Queen of Hearts, "The Answer to the Stag's Prayer," will be chosen by a similar contest.

HE BEGS PENNIES

AKRON, Ohio (IP).—Bill Weller, sophomore at the University of Akron, recently found time hanging heavily on his hands. To break the monotony he decided to see how many people would contribute pennies. Jangling a couple in his pocket he started out and ended the day with $1.11. Then he lost all but 11 cents matching them. His biggest contributions had come from the faculty.

GRIGGS HEADS BOTANY SOCIETY

Dr. Griggs, head of the Department of George Washington University, was elected President of the Botanical Society of Washington at its last meeting, which was held in the Cosmos Club.

For the past year Dr. Griggs has been Vice-President of the Society. He held the position of Secretary for the three years preceding that.

AD MEN WANTED

There are a few vacancies on the Hatchet Staff for Advertising Assistants. All who are interested in advertising and who would like to be on the Hatchet Staff please meet Frank Kreglow in the Hatchet Office at twelve o'clock, on Friday, November 4. This type of work on the staff leads to later advancement.

Dean Rose Holds Tea; Is Bi-Monthly Affair

Dean of Women Invites Mothers of Co-eds to Accompany Them to Teas

Dean Rose's bi-monthly tea was held Wednesday, November 2, in the rooms of the Women's Building. Miss Jones, the secretary to Dean Rose, was ill, and unable to attend the tea and assist as is her custom.

Co-eds of past standing and co-eds freshly pledged to sororities the day preceding graced the walls waiting to partake of the delicious refreshments which are a famous factor in the teas of Dean Rose.

Mothers of the girls are cordially invited to accompany their student daughters to any or all of the teas which are held. This presents a better opportunity to the parents to become acquainted with the Dean of Women, and to regard the surroundings together with a portion of the girls with whom their daughters are associated.

ANNUAL COSTUME BALL HELD BY NEWMAN CLUB

Members of Club to be Guests at Tea Sunday, November 13

The Newman Club held its annual Halloween Ball at the Burleigh Hotel Friday, October 28. It was a huge success, everyone reporting a great time. Many of the costumes were very original in design. Joe Stapleton took off the honors in this respect with his "sheik" outfit.

The third meeting of the year took place last night in Corcoran Hall 23. Dr. John Cartwright gave the first of a series of lectures on church history. These lectures will be continued from time to time during the year.

The members of the club will be the guests of Miss McGuire at a tea to be given at the National Catholic Service School on Sunday, November 13, from four to six. This event has always proved a great success in the past and has come to be one of the high lights of the year. All members of the club are invited.

HISTORY CLUB TO PICNIC AFTERNOON O' NOV. 3

The History Club will hold a picnic at Camp Normal on Sunday afternoon, November 13, at three o'clock. A most enjoyable picnic was held at the same place last May, through the courtesy of the Misses Green, and those who remember that occasion will surely be on hand again for another good time. Please call Miss Elsie Green, Columbia 5434, if you expect to come. An assessment of 25 cents per person will be made to cover the luncheon cost.

Camp Normal is located on the Conduit Road at Sycamore Station stop. It is situated to the left of the car tracks, a short distance beyond the trestle at Sycamore stop, and is easily accessible to both street cars and automobiles.

HONOR SYSTEM USED AT UNIV. OF CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Calif. (IP).—Honesty is the order of the day at the University of California.

While colleges and universities throughout the country have been proclaiming the honor system a failure, the system has been so perfected at this institution that the rule requiring a written pledge at the end of each paper has been rescinded by the Associated Students.

California's famous "honor spirit," the campus code against unfair tactics in tests, came under fire last year when an epidemic of cheating threatened the recall of the "gentlemen's code."

Certain faculty members demanded that a more effective system be instituted, and asked that the rule requiring professors to leave the room while examinations were in progress be cancelled.

Believing that this step seriously threatened the existence of the honor system and student self-government, a protest was made by student leaders. A conference between students and faculty was held, and the result was a more perfect working out of the system which led to the pronouncement of success this week.

DER SCHOENFELD VEREIN TO MEET NOVEMBER 23

The next meeting of Der Schoenfeld Verein will be held Wednesday, November 23. The program for this meeting includes the singing of German folk songs by Miss Mermet, a splendid soloist. Interesting entertainment will be provided also in the form of German games to be played by the club.

Anyone interested in German is urged to attend. Whether his "Deutsch" is particularly fluent or not, he is assured of a pleasant evening. A definite place of meeting will be announced later, although it is thought that it will probably be in the rooms of one of the sororities. Refreshments will be served.

"ZIONISM" TOPIC OF TALK

"Zionism" was the subject of a talk given by Aaron Gerber at the meeting of the Avukah Society held November 3. Betty Kronman was elected vice-president, and Esther Weckler, already secretary, was elected treasurer.

A hike down the river was held Sunday.

A debate will be held between the varsity team and a team composed of Wroe Alderson and Jack Rosenthal at the next meeting of the Society, Thursday, November 17, at 8:30 in Stockton Hall. The subject to be debated has not yet been chosen.

GEOLOGY CLASS TAKES 2-DAY TRIP

Initial Tour, Planned by Dr. Reaser, Covers Sections of Maryland and Pennsylvania

EXPERIMENT A SUCCESS

Coastal Plain, Piedmont Region Limestone and Sandstone Belts and Cornwall Iron Mines Visited

The first of a series of tours planned by Dr. Reaser in connection with his Geography and Geology courses at the University was conducted Saturday and Sunday last through sections of Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Leaving Washington early Saturday morning the route of travel from Washington to Baltimore by way of Annapolis included typical sections of the Atlantic Coastal Plain. Here, as in the other regions traversed, the effects both industrially, and historically of the underlying land structure were discussed. Truck farms which now dot the site of former tobacco plantations through this section of the Coastal Plain vary in the degree of prosperity in direct ratio to the fertility of the soil, for though the whole region is still suffering from soil exhaustion due to the early type of farming, there was originally a difference in the richness of the "soil belts."

Traveling north from Baltimore by way of Bel Air and Quarryville to Lancaster, the Piedmont region offered an interesting formation for study. This is a region of ancient rocks, the remnants of once large mountains which have been eroded away to form the sediments of the Coastal Plain.

Visit Franklin-Marshall
Lancaster, the destination of the day, was reached late in the afternoon. The dinner of Lancaster county products, one of the high lights of the trip, bore out the truth of the statements made by Dr. Roddy, of Franklin and Marshall College, in his after-dinner talk. He discussed briefly the agriculture of the county, giving some almost unbelievable statistics in regard to its crop production. This county, which heads the list not only of the state but of the nation in respect to wealth, owes its prosperity to the limestone soil and the mode of farming brought to this region by the first German settlers, and passed on now for over two centuries from one generation to another.

Sunday the course taken led north through the limestone and red sandstone belts. Not only did the land material serve as a guide to the various regions, but many of the older houses, built of material close at hand, served the same purpose. The main thoroughfare of one small town was lined on either side with substantial limestone structures, which doubtless have been standing for over a century. The most picturesque dwellings, however, were those in the red sandstone area. Surely, the wealthy mine owners whose homes these were originally, took great pride in their estates.

IRON MINES INTERESTING

One of the most interesting sights of the trip was the Cornwall iron mine which furnishes material for the important smelting industry of the nearby towns. It was with reluctance that the party left Cornwall for more time could have been profitably spent here, but the schedule read, "Carlisle for lunch," so Cornwall was left behind, but not without first being noted as a place to be visited later.

Practically everyone who lives in or near Washington has enjoyed the beauty of northwestern Maryland. At this season of the year the forests covering the Blue Ridge and Appalachian Mountains are at their loveliest. Their coloring of reds, yellows, and purples softened by the autumnal haze of a late afternoon is a sight long to be remembered. Adding to this appreciation of beauty a knowledge of the land structure and formation, these hills and valleys and the resultant modes of living take on a new significance.

It was a most enthusiastic party that reached Washington Sunday evening—a proof that this, the first trip, was most successful—geographically, geologically, and socially.

SIX HUNDRED STUDENTS WALK OUT ON STRIKE

GARY, Ind. (IP).—Six hundred students and the entire football squad of Emerson High School here walked out last Monday in protest against the enrollment of some 24 colored students in the school. The students formed a parade and walked through the downtown section in spite of police efforts to break up their line of march.

MIXED FOOTBALL RULES IN INTERNATIONAL GAME

WINNIPEG, Manitoba (IP).—When North Dakota played the University of Manitoba here recently for the first time in history that an international football game had been played in Western Canada, one-half the game was played with Canadian rules and the other half with American rules.

MENORAH SOCIETY DEBATES

"Resolved that Jewish instead of Hebrew should be the national language of Palestine" is the question to be debated at the next meeting of the Menorah Society to be held this evening at 8:30 in C. H. 17. Abe Blajwas will speak on the affirmative, with Aaron Geiber taking the negative.

The debate will be followed by a general discussion. Anyone interested is cordially invited to be present.

Prof Experiments With Kind of Mollusk

Professor Bartsch Proves That Environment Has No Effect

At the close of Summer School, Professor Bartsch made his annual trip to his Cerion colonies on the Florida Keys where he has been experimenting in breeding Cerions, a group of tropical American land mollusks. Professor Bartsch has transplanted these Cerions from localities providing a variation in temperature and vegetation, in order that some light might be thrown on the response of these organisms to variation in environment. Professor Bartsch is inclined to think that the effects of environment have been over-estimated, and since his experiments have so far shown that these organisms do not change in appearance under the various environmental conditions to which they have been subjected, they have proved successful from his standpoint.

MEDICAL SCHOOL PROF WRITES ON X-RAY WORK

Dr. E. A. Harrington to Publish Article Dealing With Recent Work on Photodensitometer

Dr. E. A. Harrington, professor of X-Ray at the George Washington School of Medicine, and research associate at the National Bureau of Standards, is planning to publish, in the Journal of the Optical Society of America, a paper in connection with his recent work on a new registering photodensitometer. The purpose of this instrument is to measure the intensity of the lines in a photograph of a spectrum. Much work has been done in connection with this subject and it is thought that Dr. Harrington's paper will add valuable data to that already gathered.

Dr. Harrington, who is on leave of absence from his status of associate physicist to extend his research activities recently, had published in the American Journal of Science—an article on "X-Ray Diffraction Measurements of the Pure Compounds Concerned in the Study of Portland Cement."

A UNITED STATES UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, D. C. (IP).—That George Washington urged the founding of a United States University, and that such an institution should be founded now in the form of a department of education with a secretary in the President's cabinet, was the declaration made by Grand Commander John M. Cowles, of the Scottish Rite at the meeting of that order here this week.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (IP).—The International collegiate debating season will open early here this year when three picked debaters from Cambridge University, England, will meet a squad from Marquette University. The visitors will uphold the proposition, "Resolved, That the power of the Press has increased, is increasing and ought to be diminished."

GLEE CLUB SMOKER SET FOR TOMORROW

President, Secretary, and Others Listed on Program at Thomas Circle Club

Thursday evening of this week at 8:30 p. m. at the Thomas Circle Club the Men's Glee Club will hold its annual smoker. This promises to be an evening of enjoyment in the form of songs, smokes, eats and entertainment.

Those of the new men who have not caught the spirit of the club will find it there. It has been the spirit of the Glee Club that has enabled its singing to earn for it the good reputation it now enjoys.

Among those invited to attend are: President Cloyd Heck Marvin, Secretary Elmer Louis Kayser, Dean John R. Lapham and several of the Glee Club members of former years.

Saturday, October 29th, at the reception to President Marvin at the Mayflower the club gave several numbers which were well received. The first evening program concert will be given late this month or early in December, announcement of the time and place to be made later. It is also probable that the club will hold a dance sometime in December.

INTEREST GROWS FOR G. W. DEBATE

Admission Only by Special Tickets Secured From Registrar's Office

BRITONS ARE PROMINENT For First Time Team Consists of Representatives of Three English Universities

A record attendance is expected at the G. W. vs. British debate by officials who have noted the interest prevalent since its announcement.

It has been the policy of George Washington in the past to meet representative foreign schools on some timely topic each year, but this is the first time that a team representing three English universities has opposed G. W. in debating circles.

Political and educational leaders in the three British universities of Edinburgh, Reading, and London, will meet the varsity squad on the night of November 18 to debate the question: "Resolved, That the most effective attitude toward war is an uncompromising pacifism."

George Washington will confront the Empire team with three of her veteran debaters. They are: William Williamson, former varsity debater who met Cambridge here last fall, and stellar member of the team which visited England last summer; John L. Seymore, who made the western trip with last year's forensic squad clashing with such schools as the University of Cincinnati, Ohio Wesleyan, and Butler College; and James Kirkland, another member of last year's varsity team who battled with the Cambridge team here last fall.

The English trio consists of Frank Ongley Darvall, of the University of Reading, England, who is an athlete, executive, and political figure; Andrew Haddon, of Edinburgh University, internationalist, who represented his school at the International Student Service conference at Prague and in Yugoslavia in 1926; and John Ramage, of the London School of Economics and Political Science, who is an orator in national and university political circles, executive of the London branch of the Independent Labor Party, magazine contributor, and educationalist.

Tickets for the international debate can be procured on Wednesday, November 9, at the Registrar's office, and at the office of the Law School secretary. One ticket will be given upon the presentation of the Student Activity card, and an additional ticket will be given for 50 cents. All other tickets may be had for 75 cents.

Red Cross Officer Talks To Columbian Women

M. C. Reckord, First Aid Director, Gives Graphic Account of Mississippi Flood Disaster

Mrs. Cloyd H. Marvin, wife of the President of George Washington University, was the guest of honor at the meeting of the Columbian Women, held Tuesday afternoon, November 1, in the Council Room of Corcoran Hall of the University.

M. C. Reckord, Assistant Director of First Aid and Life Saving of the American Red Cross, gave an interesting and graphic account of the Mississippi Flood disaster and the way in which the Red Cross, aided by President Coolidge's Special Committee, met the emergency.

Mr. Reckord pointed out that if any good could be said to have come out of the disaster, it was in the fact that hygienic conditions in the Mississippi Delta country are much better today than ever before, due to inoculation and other precautionary measures which were taken at that time.

Dr. Minna C. Denton, Chairman of the House Committee, aided by the Home Economics students of the University, was responsible for the delicious refreshments served during the social hour which preceded the meeting.

GRAD WILL MAKE STUDY OF FOREIGN COMMERCE

Vernon Lee Brown Sails Aboard "Seattle" for Tour of Germany, France, Spain and England

Vernon Lee Brown, prominent George Washington graduate, sailed yesterday from Baltimore, Md., on the United States Shipping Board cargo boat "Seattle" for Europe, where he will study foreign commerce. He is employed on board ship and will first disembark at Hamburg, Germany. From Germany his itinerary will carry him into French, Spanish and English ports and will take approximately two months to complete. Brown is making a vocation of foreign commerce and on this cruise will be actively engaged in acquainting himself with the practical methods obtaining in international commerce.

Prominent on Campus Brown will be remembered as a prominent man on the George Washington campus before graduating last spring, having been a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity, Pyramid Society, Glee Club and the G. W. Club, and prominently engaged in scholastic activities. He played varsity basketball for two years, was captain of the 1926 basketball squad and a member of the 1923, 1925 and 1926 track teams. He served as Interfraternity Council secretary for 1926, and as vice-president of that organization during 1927, and for three years was treasurer of his class.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE UNIVERSITY HATCHET

Apartment 106, 736 Twenty-second St. N. W., Washington, D. C., November 5, 1927.

The Editor, University Hatchet, Hatchet Office, George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Editor:

In your editorial column in the Hatchet of November 2, 1927, appears an editorial under the title "Our Debating Future." In it you comment on the tactlessness of the George Washington English debate team of last fall, and suggest as a means of eliminating the likelihood of the annual debate being a contest between "Gentlemen and Bores," to quote another highly esteemed publication that held opinions similar to your own, that more people try out for varsity debating.

As you no doubt are aware, Mr. Editor, that though all English debaters are gentlemen, not all English gentlemen are debaters. The easy facility of the British debaters is not due to their having been declared debaters following a tryout for a varsity team. Their prowess has only been developed by years of experience in the gayest, sharpest, wittiest and most cultured training schools in all Britain—the University Union.

George Washington does not lack an organization similar in character to the British Unions. For its history of over one hundred years, Columbian Debating Society has trained and furnished the majority of the members of the men's and women's varsity debate teams. Today Columbian has developed a style of debate so unique, interesting and witty that those who are in a position to know believe it of equal merit with that of the English forums.

Only this difference exists between British forums and Columbian. In Britain all gentlemen may join the Union and all do. In George Washington, all ladies and gentlemen may join Columbian and few do.

I am exceedingly glad you have given us this opportunity to enlist your cooperation, Mr. Editor. The Columbian Debating Society has earnestly striven through its entire history to be a debating society for gentlemen. Following your able lead, we will say with you, we want "bigger and better gentlemen."

We feel that your continued leadership in securing gentlemen for Columbian will be highly valuable. We know you to be a gentleman. One who is not a gentleman does not say what qualifications a gentleman should possess any more than does one who is not a plumber undertake to lay down requirements for a plumber. We further feel that you are a gentleman of the first rank—the first gentleman of George Washington University, for have you not undertaken to express the Hatchet's dictum on what a gentleman is not. We feel that if the Columbian Debating Society could have the First Gentleman of the University as a member, that it would soon become a forum for all the Ladies and all the Gentlemen of the University. I therefore will, Mr. Editor, take the greatest of pleasure in securing membership for you in our Society as soon as you present yourself, that you may furnish the leadership and inspiration for all of our illustrious fellowship of gentlemen.

I shall consider this an open letter, Mr. Editor, and shall take the steps within my reach to give it ample and

ADMIRERS HONOR DR. SCHOENFELD

Friends of Late Professor to Present Portrait to University

F. C. SCHWARTZ IS ARTIST Deceased Instructor Prominent As Educator Writer and Diplomat During Long Career

The memory of Dr. Hermann Schoenfeld, who was professor at George Washington up to the time of his death in 1926, will be honored by the presentation of his portrait to the University.

His former students and other admirers, under the leadership of Mr. Gropp, who was both his student and colleague, together with the Schoenfeld Verein, the University German Club named in his honor, have planned to perpetuate his memory by placing his portrait in the classroom in which he taught for over 20 years.

No portrait was painted for the University during his lifetime, and so the task of the artist will be to paint his features and personality from a group of characteristic photographs. The artist commissioned for the task is Felix Conrad Schwarz, a student at George Washington who has already painted the portraits of two faculty members, Professors Schmidt and Swisher, that of Prof. Schmidt having recently been presented by the library staff to the University.

Varied Career Prof. Schoenfeld was prominent as an educator, writer and diplomat. As an educator, he was delegate of the U. S. Bureau of Education for the investigation of higher education in Poland, a writer of educational works, and a professor in several colleges before coming to George Washington.

As a diplomat, he was U. S. Consul at Russia. As a writer, he was the author of "Brant and Erasmus," "Erasmus and Rabelais," "Higher Education in Poland," "History of Teutonic and Slavic Women," "Essays on Universal Peace," "German Armaments," and "Causes of European Confagrations," as well as being the editor of many German works, including Schiller's "Maria Stuart" and "Wilhelm Tell." He was also a contributor to the Brockhaus' Conversation-lexicon and other encyclopaedias, and to American and European magazines.

Our National Parks To Be Subject of Talk

Lecture by Dr. Henry Warren Poor to be Illustrated by Slides and Motion Pictures

Dr. Henry Warren Poor will give an illustrated lecture on "Our National Parks," November 30th in Corcoran Hall, room 1.

Professor Bassler has made arrangements for Dr. Poor to give this lecture and it will be of special interest to geology students, although all university people are invited. The lecture will be illustrated with many beautiful slides and motion pictures.

Dr. Poor was here last year as a lecturer for the Santa Fe Railway but is now lecturing under the auspices of the National Park Service.

TEAR BOMBS ARE USED TO QUIET GEORGIA TECH

ATLANTA, Ga. (IP).—Tear bombs were necessary for the dispersing of a mob of wildly cheering Georgia Tech students who gathered in the downtown section here Saturday night to let the world know that someone had at last put the brakes on the Crimson Tide from Alabama.

The undergraduates picked up helpless motor cars which attempted to negotiate the crowd, turned them around and bounced them up and down. Trolleys were pulled from the wires, and a bread fight was staged in the streets which would have done credit to the wildest imagination of a movie director.

Late in the evening two fire trucks were called and a stream of water was about to be aimed at the Tech rioters when police bethought themselves of the less disagreeable tear bombs. The attack was successful.

"FRESHMAN WEEK" NOW HAS WIDE POPULARITY

OBERLIN, Ohio (IP).—"Freshman Week," virtually a new experiment last year, has spread so rapidly that this year it is estimated at least one-third of the colleges and universities in the country had their class of 1931 arrive on the campus a week early and become familiar with things before the arrival of the upperclassmen.

FRESHMEN AT PURDUE OFFERED THEME PRIZES

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (IP).—Freshmen at Purdue are being offered prizes to write themes.

In an effort to create more interest in better theme-writing, the faculty of the English Department is offering a first prize of $10 and a second prize of $5 for the best themes handed in by the frosh. Instead of cash, the money will be awarded in the form of books selected by the faculty.

proper publicity. I trust I shall have your cooperation in this.

Your slogan for debate seems to be "Gentlemen for debaters." Let me add our slogan, "Debate for Gentlemen," that under our combined slogan, "Gentlemen for debaters; debate for Gentlemen," and your leadership, Mr. Editor, there will be no more international fiascos, "gentlemen vs. bores."

Yours for more gentility, (Sgd.) EDWARD C. GALLAGHER, President of the Society.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Vol. 23 No. 7—Nov. 10, 1927

The George Washington University gridmen defeat the Ursinus College strugglers by a scant 6 to 3 in a hard contested fracas. Colonia forward passes net 232 yards in the fray, but only fourteen of twenty-three aerial flips succeed. Bad fumbling mars the Hatchettes' game, although they manage to conquer.

Plans for annual Y. W. C. A. County Fair are made. Dancing is expected to be one of the many features.

Randolph-Macon's fighting football team from Ashland, Virginia, is working strenuously in preparation for an expected trouncing at battle with G. W. boys at Central Stadium on Saturday.

Interfraternity court championship will be settled soon between Kappa Sigma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon for the interfraternity cup.

Dr. Charles E. Hill, after his return from attending the sessions of the League of Nations and World Court as a guest of the Carnegie Endowment Fund of International Peace, emphatically states that the United States ought not enter. He believes that the league is inherently weak.

Installation of George Washington chapter, Order of the Colt and initiation of members, will take place at a banquet to be held at the University Club this week.

Again, again, again! For the nth time, the University Hatchet prints an editorial urging students to keep moving when near the busy stairway in Corcoran Hall.

The George Washington barriers leave tomorrow for participation in the Junior Cross-Country National Championship race run in connection with the Sesqui-centennial Exposition.

The Junior-Senior women's hockey team captures the interclass title by defeating the Sophomores, 3 to 2. This makes the second defeat the Sophs have suffered at the hands of the Junior-Seniors, the first clash ending, 4 to 0.

Frosh eleven youngsters expect to play a football game sometime, probably this week.

Check-up on scoring done by Colonials shows G. W. gridmen to have piled up 96 points as to 67 made by their opponents.

Professor Albert Hatton Gilmer is to present, this week, three lectures on "Modern European Drama" in Corcoran Hall. Mr. Gilmer is Professor of Dramatic Literature at Tufts College; his talks will be under the auspices of the Dramatic Association.

REVEREND WALSH TO ADDRESS HISTORY CLUB

Speaker, Who Is Vice-President of Georgetown U., Will Talk On Soviet Russia

As the feature of the George Washington University History Club's next regular meeting the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., Ph. D., will give an address on the "Recognition of the Soviet Russian Government by the United States."

Tuesday evening, November 15, has been set aside as the date with room 27, Corcoran Hall, as the setting. The address which will precede the business meeting, is scheduled for 8.30 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Walsh who is Vice President of Georgetown University and Regent of the Foreign Service School of the same institution, seems particularly well-fitted to speak on the mentioned subject as he has studied the Russian situation for several years in connection with the Pope's Relief Committee. He is a recognized authority on conditions in Russia.

All students and friends of the University are expected to take advantage of this opportunity.

Following the lecture, a closed meeting for members only will be held at which officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Tests Given Children of Neighborhood House

Boys and Girls of Pre-School Age to be Divided According to Ability

In order to determine the mental level of the children at the Neighborhood House, Miss Katherine Omwake and Miss King, both of George Washington, gave intelligence tests.

This institution, located in the southwest section of this city, is for pre-school children. In order to divide the forty or more boys and girls into groups based on mental ability, the Binet-Simon individual intelligence test method was used. The development of a child is decided by his response to questions concerning everyday life, by his ability to designate colors, circles and geometric figures, by his conception of beauty, and by his recognition of people or objects in pictures. The little mites of the "Neighborhood House" compare splendidly with the average child of the pre-school age.

TRIPLE DECK BED CAUSE DEATH

UNIVERSITY CITY, Miss. (IP).—E. L. Motherhead, 19, freshman at the University of Mississippi went to bed the other night on the top of a tripledecker bed. Since he was planning to get up early the next morning and catch a train for a football game, he placed his alarm clock right at his ear. When the alarm went off it so frightened Motherhead that he fell from the bed, and received injuries from which he died.
